

The Network’s Common Indicators Project: Analysis Framework

This categorization of Social Determinants of Health draws from the World Health Organization’s social determinants of health. Note- this is not meant to be an exhaustive list. The determinants highlighted in blue specifically were most frequently occurring across the measurement tools reviewed.

Build Healthy Places Network’s Social Determinants Framework

DETERMINANTS	DOMAINS
Economic Stability	Access to credit Anchor retail, retail development, services Business development Banking, financial planning/asset building, tax services Financial stability
Education	Adult education – ESL classes, citizenship, GED classes Educational attainment Early childhood education K-12 education Quality education Youth after-school and out-of-school programs
Employment	Jobs (job training, job placement, resume support) Entrepreneurship support
Food Environment	Community gardens Food retail Food security Programs to support healthy eating/nutrition education
Housing	Housing affordability Housing location/accessibility Housing mix (income levels, rental/ownership) Housing quality Housing stability Supportive housing
Neighborhood and Physical Environment	Environmental quality Neighborhood amenities Parks and green space Physical conditions ‘Place-making’ Public art
Physical Activity and Lifestyle	Active living Access to fields, playgrounds, sporting facilities Programs to support active living
Public Health & Healthcare	Access to health care Health attitudes/lifestyle choices Health management Health risk factors/behaviors Health improvements Health education Health outcomes

DETERMINANTS	DOMAINS
Social and Community Context	Civic participation Community activities Incarceration and institutionalization Programming and services – social services, youth programming, senior programming Pathways to permanent residency/citizenship Social cohesion
Safety	Public safety Crime
Transportation/Infrastructure	Pedestrian/bike/street infrastructure Commute time Existence and quality of sidewalks, connected streets Walkability